III. Project Details

Project Description The Master in Public Management major in Development and Security for the PPSC is a twelve (12) month in-campus, intensive course that caters not only to the mandatory training and career but also to the education requirements for promotion and professional advancement of senior officers of the police, fire, jail and other allied public safety services with the rank of Superintendent and its equivalent.

It provides an accelerated and contemporary course of study that is unique, flexible, and relevant to the changing needs of today's public safety practitioner. The program is characterized by a curriculum that offers both theory and practical application; a faculty that brings formal education and experience; and an accelerated coursework that allows fluidity, integration and comprehensiveness.

This is consistent with PPSC's thrust to develop a multi dimensional and integrated professional and leadership development program anchored on a competency based framework as well as best practices in public sector executive development.

Project Objective The Master in Public Management major in Development and Security for PPSC aims to deepen and strengthen the executive leadership and management capability and competence of the above-mentioned senior officers in the context of institutional and sectoral development, innovation, responsiveness, and modernization on public safety.

Furthermore, the intensive degree program seeks to build the competencies of future leaders within the overarching framework of development and security. The program believes that enduring peace and prosperity can be achieved only by melding and balancing the relevant and key substantive
